Description

Has it been a few years since you thought about the best practices of literature reviews? For some nurses, it has been many years since they were exposed to the best practices of literature reviews. This workshop will present a structured method for conducting a literature search in the health sciences, whether you're writing the background section of a paper or you're publishing a literature review. Workshop topics include strategies to ensure a comprehensive search, documenting your process, and keeping track of what you find. Come to this workshop and learn how to perform a literature review with ease.

Learning Objective(s)

At the conclusion of this learning activity, participants will be able to:

- Describe the steps involved in formulating a clear and focused research question.
- Translate research question into searchable components.
- Conduct a database search using appropriate keywords and filters to retrieve relevant results.

Accreditation

In support of improving patient care, Dartmouth Health is jointly accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME), the Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education (ACPE), and the American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC), to provide continuing education for the healthcare team.

Dartmouth Health designates this live activity for a maximum of 1.0 ANCC contact hour.
